Bill of Rights for Individuals We Serve

Frontline Healthcare is committed to protecting and honoring the rights of every individual we serve. Each individual we support has the following rights, which our staff are required to respect at all times. These rights include, but are not limited to:

- The right to be treated at all times with courtesy and respect and with full recognition of their dignity and individuality.
- The right to an appropriate, safe, and sanitary living environment that complies with local, state, and federal standards and recognizes the person's need for privacy and independence.
- The right to food adequate to meet accepted standards of nutrition.
- The right to practice the religion of their choice or to abstain from the practice of religion.
- The right to timely access to appropriate medical or dental treatment.
- The right to access necessary ancillary services, including but not limited to occupational therapy, physical therapy, speech therapy, behavior modification, and other psychological services.
- The right to receive appropriate care and treatment in the least intrusive manner.
- The right to privacy, including both periods of privacy and places of privacy.
- The right to communicate freely with persons of their choice in any reasonable manner they choose.
- The right to ownership and use of personal possessions so as to maintain individuality and personal dignity.
- The right to social interaction with members of either sex.
- The right to access opportunities that enable them to develop their full human potential.
- The right to pursue vocational opportunities that promote and enhance economic independence.
- The right to be treated equally as citizens under the law.
- The right to be free from emotional, psychological, and physical abuse.
- The right to participate in appropriate programs of education, training, social development, and habilitation, and in programs of reasonable recreation.
- The right to participate in decisions that affect their lives.
- The right to select a parent or advocate to act on their behalf.
- The right to manage their personal financial affairs, based on individual ability to do so.
- The right to confidential treatment of all information in their personal and medical records.
- The right to voice grievances and recommend changes in policies and services without restraint, interference, coercion, discrimination, or reprisal.
- The right to be free from unnecessary chemical or physical restraints.
- The right to participate in the political process.
- The right to refuse to participate in medical, psychological, or other research or experiments.

If you believe any of these rights have not been honored, you may raise a concern or file a grievance at any time without fear of retaliation. Please speak with any staff member, your Service & Support Administrator, or the Frontline Healthcare Client Rights Officer.

Acknowledgment of Receipt

I acknowledge that I have received and had the opportunity to review a copy of the Client Rights, and that these rights have been explained to me in a manner I understand.
